McKAY DAMAGE SUIT

Again Comes Up in Common Pleas Court

FORMER SUIT IS WITHDRAWN

But a New One is Filed Making Certain Additional Allegations and Claims.

The damage action which Albert F. McKay brought against the Pan Handle for $40,000 damage has been withdrawn without prejudice and a new petition was filed by Mr. McKay's attorneys, Captain E. W. James, of this city and Barger & Barger, of Columbus, Saturday. The new petition asks for $50,000 damages on the same grounds as the old one, now withdrawn.

It will be remembered that Mr. McKay is an insurance man who was arrested in this city June 8, 1900 by a Pan Handle officer, at the instance of Conductor Fisher, upon the charge of refusing to pay fare and illegally stopping or riding on a passenger train. The case was heard by Mayor Cassingham who bound Mr. McKay over to the grand jury, holding that his court had no power to decide the legality of the contract between the railroad and the Central Passenger association regarding the mileage about which the trouble arose between Mr. McKay and Conductor Fisher.

The grand jury of September, 1900, failed to make an indictment against Mr. McKay and on October 10 his attorneys filed a damage action against the Pan Handle company.

The new petition differs from the old one in that it contains the new allegation that the Pan Handle company failed to provide any witnesses to either the September 1900, grand jury or the February grand jury which rose February 6. It also states that the Pan Handle company made no answer to Prosecutor Wheeler when he inquired about the furnishing of witnesses, save to say they did not desire to prosecute farther. No indictment was returned by the February grandjury.

MRS. ERNEST JOHNSON

Dies at Her Philadelphia Home Saturday Night of Heart Trouble.

Friends of Mrs. Ernest Johnson were sadly shocked though not greatly surprised to receive a telegram from Philadelphia Sunday morning announcing her death at the family home, 4255 Viola street in that city. The death occurred at midnight Saturday night. Arrangements have been made to conduct the funeral from the residence of Mrs. S. H. Stewart on Fourth street, this city, at 4 o'clock Tuesday evening, the body to arrive in the city Tuesday on the noon train from the East.

Mrs. Johnson has been ailing for some months but did not become critically or seriously ill until early in the winter. The disease was recognized as heart trouble in the nature of degeneracy of one of the valves, an exactly similar trouble to that which carried off her father, John G. Stewart of this city. Her mother and sister, Mrs. S. H. Stewart and Haddie J. Stewart, closed up their residence on Fourth street when Mrs. Johnson became ill last fall and have been with her ever since.

Mrs. Johnson, was Miss Bessie Stewart of this city, and married Ernest Johnson, a well known Coshocton boy, about 10 years. Mr. Johnson was formerly connected with THE AGE and has since been connected with various newspapers and magazines in New York and other points East. He is at present at the head of the biographical department of the Philadelphia North American.

Mrs. Johnson leaves motherless a bright little girl eight years of age.

NUMB AND POWERLESS

Garfield Maston's Arm is Said to be From the Maddog Bite.

The friends of Garfield Maston, of Wakatomaka, now in Chicago for treatment at the Pasteur institute have discouraging information about his condition. It will be remembered that he was bitten on the left hand Wednesday, January 30, by a dog which showed later symptoms of rabies on the same day and killed some chickens and a pup.

The information received by his friends is to the effect that the left hand and arm have become benumbed and powerless, and that the treatment does not seem to be efficacious except in delaying developments. It is feared the boy will not recover. The delay of 72 hours before treatment is believed to have been sufficient to allow the germs of the poison to become too deeply seated in the blood to be overcome by the treatment.

TO COMPEL A REFUND

Of Bonus Money Paid by Dresden Citizens.

TRUSTEE JOHN HORNUNG

Enters Suit Against Parties, Many and Various, Including the American Steel Sheet Company.

Dresden is undergoing much the same experience with their rolling mill plant as did Coshocton with our sheet mill industry, except that Coshocton's case was easily settled. The Dresden plant was sold to the American Steel Sheet company and now John Hornung, as trustee, by his attorneys, Judge John J. Adams, of Zanesville, and B. F. McDonald, of Dresden, files a petition asking for judgment in the sum of $17,750 and $770, two separate items, against Harry Ashton, Robert T. Scott, E. J. Lonney, Elizabeth McCullough, A. J. McCullough, T. J. McCullough, Joseph McCullough, William McCullough, Arthur McCullough, George McCullough and the Dresden Iron and Steel Sheet company, a corporation, and the American Steel Sheet company, a corporation.

The case was filed in the court of common pleas at Zanesville Saturday and the petition states in brief that Mr. Hornung entered into contract with the individuals named, April 18, 1898, to pay the amount claimed as bonus in consideration of which the defendants were to erect a mill to employ 85 men and pay a monthly salary roll of not less than $6000. The petition avers that since March 14, 1900 the defendants and their assigns, the companies mentioned, have failed and refused to fulfill the contract.

The case opens up several interesting questions and the answer of the defendants will be looked for with considerable interest. The case will be followed eagerly by a large number of ambitious towns and cities who find themselves in a similar predicament to that of Dresden.

PROSPECTOR GLENN, of Columbus, Returns Home With Options on Washington and Virginia Township Land.

W. Q. Glenn, of Columbus, who has been in Washington and Virginia townships in Coshocton county and Madison and Jefferson townships in Muskingum county for the past three weeks was in the city Saturday evening Mr. Glenn, who is ex-deputy coroner of Franklin county is just now engaged in prospecting for gas and oil for a Columbus syndicate.

Mr. Glenn was rather reticent about his discoveries in Coshocton county preferring to report to his employers his findings. As he went home to Columbus Saturday evening and will return to the field later on, it may safely be inferred that the indications were satisfactory, especially as it is learned from a reliable source that he obtained options on nearly 2,000 acres of land in Washington and Virginia townships.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER.

J. F. Miller In Charge of Cleveland, Akron & Columbus Railway.

J. F. Miller, the well known general superintendent of various systems of the Pennsylvania lines, has been placed in charge of the C. A. & C. railway. Recently he has been general manager of the southwestern system of the Pennsylvania lines with headquarters at Columbus. He was recently elected vice president of the C. A. & C. Railway company.

This change means a brighter future for that line and its various branches between Cleveland and Columbus, one of which passes through the western part of this county.

—Miss Blowers, of Zanesville, who has recently established herself in the city as a teacher of vocal music, very ably acquitted herself and demonstrated her ability as a vocalist by her solo singing in the M. P. church Sunday morning and evening. Her voice is remarkable for its sweetness and clear accent.

—Sherman Galbraith, of this city, writes a letter to the Tuscarawas Chronicle in reference to Victor E. Affolter's death in Albita, La., by his own hand in which he states he learned it from THE AGE and it saddened his heart. He pays a high tribute to the young man who, he says, was a bosom friend. He states that Mr. Affolter was once an Epworth Leaguer and a power for good. He winds up with an eloquent temperance appeal to young men.

FINGER CUT OFF.

Fred Foster, of Standard Advertising Company Meets With Accident.

Fred Foster, a young man residing in Roscoe and working at the Standard Advertising company's plant had the middle finger of his right hand almost severed from the hand Saturday evening. A physician was called and the finger was sewed on and it is believed perhaps it may be saved.

Mr. Foster was cleaning up his die machine preparing to quitting work when he became hurried and turned on the power to move the flywheel around to where he wanted to work on it. His fingers caught in the trip and the middle one was nearly severed.

The accident was painful and even if no complications arise will lay Mr. Foster off several weeks.

It was not signed and no one saw it posted at either place, but it is known to have been the handiwork of a member of the Jacobite league."

TORTURED

Until the Hiding Place of His Roast Was Disclosed.

Mansfield, O., Feb. 11.—Near McKay, a hamlet in Ashland county, six masked robbers broke into the residence of John Duncan, a wealthy farmer, bound and gaged Mr. Duncan and the four other members of his family, and after ransacking the house demanded of the farmer that he disclose to them where his money and other valuables were secreted, and on his refusing to do so they applied matches to his feet, torturing him as well as the others, until the location of the money was disclosed. They secured $450, four watches and other valuables, after which four of the robbers, leaving their victim still helpless, stole a team of horses and a bobsled and made their escape. The robbers went toward Loudonville.

Cleveland, Feb. 11.—At an early morning hour a westbound motor crashed in to a sleighing party of 22 persons, and 11 were more or less injured, but none fatally. A LASTING EFFECT.

This Evidence Should Prove Every Claim.

Relief from the pains and aches of a bad back is always welcome to every backache sufferer, but to cure a lame, weak or aching back is what's wanted. Cure it so it will stay cured. It can be done. Here's the strongest evidence to prove it.

Mr. F. S. Adams, of the Findlay Transfer Co., Findlay, O., said to a representative who called upon him in the month of November, 1898: "I gave for publication in our Findlay papers my experience and my opinions of Doan's Kidney Pills early in the summer of 1896. Many a time since I have wished that the said opinions had not appeared so often in our newspapers, for by that act I had to endorse hundreds of times in personal interviews and by letters what I said in that public statement. It is now over two years since I stopped the treatment, and I can conscientiously say that in place of my estimation of Doan's Kidney Pills lessening to-day, it is stronger than when first formed. So that others who suffer from backache, or any of the train of consequents which follow over-excited or weakened kidneys, may know my opinions about Doan's Kidney Pills I allow them to be published for another year."

Doan's Kidney Pills for sale by all dealers; price 50 cents a box. Mailed on receipt of price by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S. Remember the name, Doan's, and take no substitute.

Rebels Still Active.

Kingston, Jamaica, Feb. 11. — Advices received by the British steamer Trent, Captain Farmer, from Colon, Colombia, show that there is a continuance of insurgent activity in many quarters. Last week there was severe fighting between government troops and the rebels near Panama, and the latter were then pressing toward Panama and Colon, in spite of the government reinforcements. According to the same authority there is a serious deadlock in Colombian trade.

Fire at Detroit.

Detroit, Feb. 11.—A fire which started on the fourth story of a 5-story building occupied by Valentine Schroeder & Company, wholesale candy manufacturers, ruined the interior of that building and partially destroyed the interior of the adjoining building, occupied by the Gebhard Paper company. A large stock of leaf tobacco stored in a third building, owned by the Hemmeter Cigar company, was partially ruined. The damage is estimated at about $65,000.

Boston Printers to Strike.

Boston, Feb. 11. — Typographical Union No. 13, at a special meeting, voted to call a strike in every book and job printing establishment in this city in case the master printers refuse to sign the union scale at once, the present issue being whether or not women typesetters shall be treated "as journeymen compositors," and receive the same wages as men for doing the same work. The union claims there should be no discrimination.

England and the Treaty.

London, Feb. 11.—It has been learned that a reply will shortly be sent to the United States Nicaraguan canal project. It will not comply with the senate's demands. Neither will it be in the nature of a flat refusal, though for the purposes of immediate construction it will be tantamount to such a refusal. It will consist mainly in a counter proposal or proposals, likely to necessitate extended negotiations.

FREQUENT COUGHING

inflames the lungs. Foley's Honey and Tar stops the coughing and heals the lungs. The ordinary cough medicines which are simply expectorants, will not do this, as they keep the lungs irritated in throwing off the phlegm. C. E. Anderson.

THE EVIL OF SILENCE.

Dr. Talmage Pleads For a More Demonstrative Religion.

CASTING OUT THE DUMB SPIRIT.

The Duty of Christians to Speak Out Heartily on the Side of Righteousness and to Sing With Joyous Hearts God's Praise.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 10.—In this discourse Dr. Talmage calls for a more demonstrative religion and a hearty speaking out on the right side of everything; text, Mark ix, 25, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him."

Here was a case of great domestic anguish. The son of the household was possessed of an evil spirit, which, among other things, paralyzed his tongue and made him speechless. When the influence was on the patient, he could not say a word—articulation was impossible. The spirit that captured this member of the household was a dumb spirit—so called by Christ—a spirit abroad today and as lively and potent as in New Testament times. Yet in all the realms of sermonology I cannot find a discourse concerning this dumb devil which Christ charged upon in my text, saying, "Come out of him."

There has been much destructive superstition abroad in the world concerning possession by evil spirits. Under the form of belief in witchcraft this delusion swept the continents. Persons were supposed to be possessed with some evil spirit, which made them able to destroy others. In the sixteenth century in Geneva 1,500 persons were burned to death as witches. In one neighborhood of France 1,000 persons were burned. In two centuries 200,000 persons were slain as witches. So mighty was the delusion that it included among its victims some of the greatest intellects of all time, such as Chief Justice Matthew Hale and Sir Edward Coke, and such renowned ministers of religion as Cotton Mather, one of whose books, Benjamin Franklin said, shaped his life—and Richard Baxter, and Archbishop Cranmer and Martin Luther; and, among writers and philosophers, Lord Bacon. That belief, which has become the laughing stock of all sensible people, counted its disciples among the wisest and best people of Sweden, Germany, England, France, Spain and New England. But while we reject witchcraft, any man who believes the Bible must believe that there are diabolical agencies abroad in the world. While there are ministering spirits to bless there are infernal spirits to hinder, to poison and to destroy. Christ was speaking to a spiritual existence when, standing before the afflicted one of the text, he said, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, come out of him."

Dumb and Deaf Spirit.

Against this dumb devil of the text I put you on your guard. Do not think that this agent of evil has put his blight on those who, by omission of the vocal organs, have had the golden gates of speech bolted and barred. Among those who have never spoken a word are the most gracious and lovely and talented souls that were ever incarnated The chaplains of the asylums for the dumb can tell you enchanting stories of those who never called the name of father or mother or child, and many of the most devout and prayerful souls will never in this world speak the name of God or Christ

Many a deaf mute have I seen with the angel of intelligence seated at the window of the eye, who never came forth from the door of the mouth. What a miracle of loveliness and knowledge was Laura Bridgman of New Hampshire, not only without faculty of speech, but without hearing and without sight, all these faculties removed by sickness when 2 years of age, yet, becoming a wonder at needlework, at the piano, at the sewing machine and an intelligent student of the Scriptures and confounding philosophers, who came from all parts of the world to study the phenomenon. Thanks to Christianity for what it has done for the amelioration of the condition of the deaf and the dumb. Back in the ages they were put to death as having no right with such paucity of equipment to live, and for centuries they were classed among the idiotic and unsafe. But in the sixteenth century came Pedro Ponce, the Spanish monk, and in the seventeenth century came Juan Pablo Bonet, another Spanish monk, with dactylology, or the finger alphabet, and in our own century we have had John Braidwood and Drs. Mitchell and Ackerly and Peet and Gallaudet, who have given to uncounted thousands of those whose tongues were forever silent the power to spell out on the air by a manual alphabet their thoughts about this world and their hopes for the next. We rejoice in the brilliant inventions in behalf of those who were born dumb. One of the most impressive audiences I ever addressed was in the far west, an audience of about 600 persons, who had never heard a sound or spoken a word, an interpreter standing beside me while I addressed them. I congratulated that audience on two advantages they had over the most of us—the one that they escaped hearing a great many disagreeable things and on the other fact that they escaped saying things they were sorry for afterward. Yet after all the alleviations a shackled tongue is an appalling limitation. But we are not this morning speaking of congenital mutes. We mean those who are born with all the faculties of vocalization and yet have been struck by the evil one mentioned in the text—the dumb devil to whom Christ called, when he said, "Thou dumb and deaf spirit, I charge thee, come out of him."

Silence Sometimes a Crime.

There has been apotheosization of silence. Some one has said silence is golden, and sometimes the greatest triumph is to keep your mouth shut. But sometimes silence is a crime and the direct result of the baleful influence of the dumb devil of our text. There is hardly a man or woman who has not been present on some occasion when the Christian religion became a target for raillery. Perhaps it was over in the store some day when there was not much going on and the clerks were in a group, or it was in the factory at the noon spell, or it was out on the farm under the trees while you were resting, or it was in the clubroom, or it was in a social circle, or it was in the street on the way home from business, or it was on some occasion which you remember without my describing it. Some one got the laugh on the Bible and caricatured the profession of religion as hypocrisy, or made a pun out of something that Christ said. The laugh started, and you joined in, and not one word of protest did you utter. What kept you silent? Modesty? No. Incapacity to answer? No. Lack of opportunity? No. It was a blow on both your lips by the wing of the dumb devil. If some one should malign your father or mother or wife or husband or child, you would flush up quick and either with an indignant word or doubled up fist make response. And yet here is our Christian religion which has done so much for you and so much for the world that it will take all eternity to celebrate it, and yet when it was attacked you did not so much as say: "I differ. I object. I am sorry to hear you say that. There is another side to this." You Christian people ought in such times as these to go armed, not with earthly weapons, but with the sword of the spirit. You ought to have four or five questions with which you could confound any man who attacks Christianity. A man 90 years old was telling me how he put to flight a scoffer. My aged friend said to the skeptic. "Did you ever read the history of Joseph in the Bible?" "Yes," said the man, "it is a fine story and as interesting a story as I ever read." "Well, now," said my old friend, "suppose that account of Joseph stopped half way?" "Oh," said the man, "then it would not be entertaining." "Well, now," said my friend, "we have in this world only half of everything, and do you not think that when we hear the last half things may be consistent and that then we may find that God was right?"

Silence Gives Consent.

Oh, friends, better load up with a few interrogation points! You cannot afford to be silent when God and the Bible and the things of eternity are assailed. Your silence gives consent to the bombardment of your Father's house. You allow a slur to be cast on your mother's dying pillow. In behalf of the Christ, who for you went through the agonies of assassination on the rocky bluff back of Jerusalem, you dared not face a sickly joke. Better load up with a few questions, so that next time you will be ready. Say to the scoffer: "My dear sir, will you tell me what makes the difference between the condition of woman in China and the United States? What do you think of the sermon on the mount? How do you like the golden rule laid down in the Scriptures? Are you in favor of the Ten Commandments? In your large and extensive reading have you come across a lovelier character than Jesus Christ? Will you please to name the triumphant deathbeds of infidels and atheists? How do you account for the fact that among the out and out believers in Christianity were such persons as Benjamin Franklin, John Ruskin, Thomas Carlyle, Babington Macaulay, William Penn, Walter Scott, Charles Kingsley, Horace Bushnell, James A. Garfield, Robert E. Lee, Stonewall Jackson, Admiral Foote, Admiral Farragut, Ulysses S. Grant, John Milton, William Shakespeare, Chief Justice Marshall, John Adams, Daniel Webster, George Washington? How do you account for their fondness for the Christian religion? Among the innumerable colleges and universities of the earth will you name me three started by infidels and now supported by infidels? Down in your heart are you really happy in the position you occupy antagonistic to the Christian religion? When do you have the most rapturous views of the next world?" Go at him with a few such questions, and he will get so red in the face as to suggest apoplexy, and he will look at his watch and say he has an engagement and must go. You will put him in a sweat that will beat a Turkish bath. You will put him on a rout compared with which our troops at Bull Run made no time at all. Arm yourself, not with arguments, but interrogation points, and I promise you victory. Shall such a man as you, shall such a woman as you, surrender to one of the meanest spirits that ever smoked up from the pit—the dumb devil spoken of in the text?

Duty to Sing God's Praise.

But then there are occasions when this particular spirit that Christ exorcised when he said, "I charge thee to come out of him," takes people by the wholesale. In the most responsive religious audience have you noticed how many people never sing at all? They have a book, and they have a voice, and they know how to read. They know many of the tunes, and yet are silent while the great raptures of music pass by. Among those who sing not one out of a hundred sings loud enough to hear his own voice. They hum it. They give a sort of religious grunt. They make the lips go, but it is inaudible. With a voice strong enough to stop a street car one block away all they can afford in the praise of God is about half a whisper. With enough sopranos, enough altos, enough bassos to make a small heaven between the four walls they let the opportunity go by unimproved. The volume of voice that ascends from the largest audience that ever assembled ought to be multiplied two thousand fold. But the minister rises and gives out the hymn, the organ begins, the choir or precentor leads, the audience are standing so that the lungs may have full expansion, and a mighty harmony is about to ascend when the evil spirit spoken of in my text—the dumb devil—spreads his two wings, one over the lips of one half the audience and the other wing over the lips of the other half of the audience, and the voices roll back into the throats from which they started, and only here and there anything is heard, and nine-tenths of the holy power is destroyed, and the dumb devil, as he flies away, says, "I could not keep Isaac Watts from writing that hymn, and I could not keep Lowell Mason from composing the tune to which it is set, but I smote into silence or half silence the lips from which it would have spread abroad to bless neighborhoods and cities and then mount the wide open heavens." Give the long meter doxology the full support of Christendom, and those four lines would take the whole earth for God.

Historic Incidents of Praise.

During the cotton famine in Lancashire, England, when the suffering was something terrific, as the first wagon load of cotton rolled in the starving people unhooked the horses and drew the load themselves, singing, until all Lancashire joined in with triumphant voices, their cheeks sopping with tears, "Praise God from whom all blessings flow." When Commodore Perry, with his warship, the Mississippi, lay off the coast of Japan, he bombarded the shores, with "Old Hundredth" played by the marine band. Glorious "Old Hundredth," composed by William Franc of Germany. In a war prison at 10 o'clock at night, the poor fellows far from home and wounded and sick and dying, one prisoner started the "Old Hundredth Doxology," and then a score of voices joined; then all the prisoners on all the floors took up the acclaim until the building, from foundation to top stone, fairly quaked with the melodious ascription. A British man-of-war lying off a foreign coast heard a voice singing that doxology and immediately guessed, and guessed aright, that there was an Englishman in captivity to the Mohammedans, and in the small boats the sailors rowed to shore and burst into a guardhouse and set the captive free. I do not know what tune the trumpets of resurrection shall play, but it may be the doxology which is now sounding across Christendom. How much more hearty we would be in our songs and how easily we could drive back the dumb devil from all our worshiping assemblages if we could realize that nearly all our hymns have a stirring history. That glorious hymn, "Stand Up For Jesus," was suggested by the last words of Dudley Tyng, who was dying from having his right arm torn off by a thrashing machine. That hymn, "What a Friend We Have In Jesus," heard through a telephone, converted an obdurate soul. "Shall We Gather at the River?" was a hymn first sung in Brooklyn Prospect park at the children's May anniversary and then started to encircle the world. "Where Is My Wandering Boy Tonight?" is a song that has saved hundreds of dissipated young men.

Tom, the drummer boy in the army, was found crying, and an officer asked him what was the matter. "Oh," he said, "I had a dream last night. My sister died ten years ago, and my mother never was herself again, and she died soon after. Last night I dreamed I was killed in battle and that mother and sister came down to meet me." After the next battle was over some one crossing the field heard a voice that he recognized as the voice of Tom, the drummer boy, singing, "Jesus, lover of my soul." But at the end of the first verse the voice became very feeble, and at the end of the second verse it stopped, and they went up and found Tom, the drummer boy, leaning against a stump and dead.

Ten Thousand Tongues.

That hymn "Oh, For a Thousand Tongues to Sing" was suggested to Charles Wesley by Peter Bohler, who, after his conversion, said, "I had better keep silent about it." "No," said Wesley, "if you had ten thousand tongues you had better use them for Christ." And then that angel of hymnology penned the words:

> Oh, for a thousand tongues to sing
> My dear Redeemer's praise,
> The glories of my God and King,
> The triumphs of his grace!
> Jesus, the name that calms our fears,
> That bids our sorrows cease;
> 'Tis music in the sinner's ears;
> 'Tis life and health and peace.

While much of the modern music is a religious doggerel, a consecrated nonsense, a sacred imbecility, I would like to see some great musician of our time lift the baton and marshal "Luther's Judgment Hymn," "Yarmouth," "Dundee," "Ariel," "Brattlestreet," "Uxbridge," "Pleyel's Hymn," "Harwell," "Antioch," "Mount Pisgah" and "Coronation," with a few regiments of mighty tunes made in our own time, and storm Asia, Africa and America for the kingdom of God. But the first thing to do is to drive out the dumb devil of the text from all our churches.

Do not, however, let us lose ourselves in generalities. Not one of us but has had our lives sometimes touched by the evil spirit of the text—this awful dumb devil. We had just one opportunity of saying a Christian word that might have led a man or woman into a Christian life. The opportunity was fairly put before us. The word of invitation or consolation or warning came to the inside gate of the mouth, but there it halted. Some hindering power locked the jaws together so that they did not open. The tongue lay flat and still in the bottom of the mouth as though struck with paralysis. We were mute. Though God had given us the physiological apparatus for speech and our lungs were filled with air which by the command of our will could have made the laryngeal muscles move and the vocal organs vibrate, we were wickedly and fatally silent. For all time and eternity we missed our chance, or it was a prayer meeting, and the service was thrown open for prayer and remarks, and there was a dead halt—everything silent as a graveyard at midnight. Indeed, it was a graveyard and midnight. An embarrassing pause took place that put a wet blanket on all the meeting. Men, bold enough on business exchange or in worldly circles, shut their eyes as though they were praying in silence, but they were not praying at all. They were busy hoping somebody else would do his duty. The women flushed under the awful pause and made their fans more rapidly flutter. Some brother, with no cold, coughed, by that sound trying to fill up the time, and the meeting was slain. But what killed it? The dumb devil. This is the way I account for the fact that the stupidest places on earth are some prayer meetings. I do not see how a man keeps any grace if he regularly attends them. They are spiritual refrigerators. Religion kept on ice. How many of us have lost occasions of usefulness? In a sculptor's studio stood a figure of the god Opportunity. The sculptor had made the hair fall down over the face of the statue so as to completely cover it, and there were wings to the feet. When asked why he so represented Opportunity, the sculptor answered, "The face of the statue is thus covered up because we do not recognize Opportunity when it comes, and the wings to the feet show that Opportunity is swiftly gone."

Public Recognition of God.

But do not let the world deride the church because of all this, for the dumb devil is just as conspicuous in the world. The great political parties assemble at the proper time to build platforms for the candidates to stand on. A committee of each party is appointed to make the platform. After proper deliberation, the committees come in with a ringing report, "Whereas," and "Whereas," and "Whereas." Pronunciamentos all shaped with the one idea of getting the most votes. All expression in regard to the great moral evils of the country ignored. No expression in behalf of temperate living, for that would lose the vote of the liquor traffic. No expression in regard to the universal attempt at the demolition of the Lord's day. No recognition of God in the history of nations, for that would lose the vote of atheists. But "Whereas," and "Whereas," and "Whereas." Nine cheers will be given for the platform. The dumb devil of the text puts one wing over the one platform and the other wing over the other platform. Those great conventions are opened with prayer by their chaplains. If they avoided platitudes and told the honest truth in their prayers they would say: "O Lord, we want to be postmasters and consuls and foreign ministers and United States district attorneys. For that we are here, and for that we will strive till the election next November. Give us office, or we die. Forever and ever, amen." The world, to say the least, is no better than the church on this subject of silence at the wrong time. In other words, is it not time for Christianity to become pronounced and aggressive as never before? Take sides for God and sobriety and righteousness. "If the Lord be God, follow him; if Baal, then follow him." Have you opportunity of rebuking a sin? Rebuke it. Have you a chance to cheer a disheartened soul? Cheer it. Have you a useful word to speak? Speak it.

Be out and out, up and down for righteousness. If your ship is afloat on the Pacific ocean of God's mercy, hang out your colors from the masthead. Show your passport if you have one. Do not smuggle your soul into the harbor of heaven. Speak out for God! Close up the chapter of lost opportunities and open a new chapter. Before you get to the door on your way out shake hands with some one and ask him to join you on the road to heaven. Do not drive up to heaven in a two wheeled "sulky" with room only for one, and that yourself, but get the biggest gospel wagon you can find and pile it full of friends and neighbors and shout till they hear you all up and down the skies, "Come with us, and we will do you good, for the Lord hath promised good concerning Israel." The opportunity for good which you may consider insignificant may be tremendous for results, as when on the sea Captain Haldane swore at the ship's crew with an oath that wished them all in perdition, and a Scotch sailor touched his cap and said, "Captain, God hears prayer, and we would be badly off if your wish were answered." Captain Haldane was convicted by the sailor's remark and converted and became the means of the salvation of his brother Robert, who had been an infidel, and then Robert became a minister of the gospel, and under his ministry the godless Felix Neff became the world renowned missionary of the cross, and the worldly Merle d'Aubigne became the author of "The History of the Reformation" and will be the glory of the church for all ages. Perhaps you may do as much as the Scotch sailor who just tipped his cap and used one broken sentence by which the earth and the heavens are still resounding with potent influences. Do something for God, and do it right away or you will never do it at all.

> Time flies away fast,
> The while we never remember;
> How soon our life here
> Grows old with the year
> That dies with the next December!

Edward VII's Height.

"It seems to be the general impression over here that the new king of England is a large, heavily built sort of person," said an undersized Englishman in one of the hotels the other day. "The impression is gained from his photographs and from the pictures in the illustrated papers, which certainly would lead any one to believe that Edward VII was at any rate above medium height. But he isn't.

"I don't know of any official record or his majesty's height, but he must be a shade under 5 feet 5 inches without his shoes. I know this because I stood beside him for a few minutes at a state funeral. Now, my height is exactly 5 feet 4¾ inches, and I noticed that he seemed exactly as tall, but as he was broader and much heavier than I he seemed a larger man.

"The fact surprised me, because I had never seen him at such short range before. I wouldn't be so certain about it had not a friend who stood behind me and was as much surprised at the discovery as I was, mentioned to me that he had noticed that I was as big a man as my future king.

"So, giving him the benefit of the doubt for a quarter of an inch, that's his size—5 feet 5—and the illustrations that depict him as standing nearly to the height of men of 5 feet 10 or thereabout are either fixed up with a desire to please him, though it has never been said that he was sensitive on the point, or with the idea of letting the world at large believe that our royal personages were just as big as those of any other country."—New York Sun.

A CORNER ON EGGS

By a Coshocton Business Man Spoiled by His Wife and Hired Girl.

A well known business man for a week has been receiving congratulations from his neighbors on a wonderful discovery in hen culture. This gentleman is somewhat of a wag and has a wife and hired girl who are good practical jokers themselves. Among them all they manage to have a good deal of fun and liven up existence somewhat. Monday morning brought the culmination of a good joke that has been hatching for several weeks.

The gentleman, whom we will call Mr. Quinia for various reasons, has had an itching to distinguish himself in the poultry line for a long time. It is said he made several interesting discoveries in that line one of which is not to be cock sure the longest gaff will always win out, and another one is not to bank too much on another man's game (bird.)

Mr. Quinia has all along been imbued with the idea that if his hens were coddled a little through the winter, put in a warm place and fed hot meals of a certain stimulating nature, a la carte or table d' hote, they might forget it was winter and go ahead and keep their egg manufacturing plant in operation the whole year 'round. Consequently he inaugurated the plan last fall and swore his wife and the hired girl to eternal secrecy.

The plan worked all right and for two months, until the present severe cold weather came on, the plant has been in full operation grinding out one egg per day per hen. But the great success of the plan was shown when the weather became coldest. Then the plant doubled its output and regularly every day Mr. Quinia with a great deal of satisfaction stored away in the family market basket two eggs per day from each adult hen.

Neighbors soon noticed the gleeful chuckle with which Mr. Quinia greeted them and a few favored friends were let into the secret.

Monday morning at the breakfast table Mrs. Quinia thoughtlessly said to the hired girl:

"Sallie, what was it you paid for those last eggs?"

Sallie winked and blinked and tried to shut off the question but it all came out.

"Eggs! Eggs! who's buying eggs?" said Mr. Quinia looking up from a large omelette he was enjoying. Mrs. Quinia saw the jig was up and made a full confession.

She and the hired girl had bought eggs by the wholesale and had been carrying on a brokerage business with the hens furnishing whatever deficiency there might be in the output each day. The wife gets a diamond ring and the hired girl a new dress, it is said, to keep mum.

HE CURED THE GRIP

But Got Into the Grip of the Law—Gray Haired Cook In Trouble.

Two plain drunks were interviewed by Mayor Cassingham Monday morning and both had stories to tell.

A man who gave the name of Piquand was arrested Saturday evening by Pan Handle Officer Doney. He plead guilty to intoxication and said he had the grip and his doctor told him to use whiskey. He said he used too much but made a positive promise never to be guilty of the offense again. He claimed it was his first offense. He paid $2 and costs and went his way.

A gray haired old man who gave his name as McCoy and said he was 66 years old was locked up Saturday evening by Officer Hankins. He said he was a miner by trade but was now cooking for a miner named Samuel Hankins at Morgan Run. He professed sorrow for his acts and said a man who would get in the shape he was in Saturday evening ought to be locked up. He was assessed $1 and costs. Being unable to pay he was returned to the prison until arrangements for the payment of his fine could be made.

WHEELING STATION ROBBED.

Money Drawer Broken Open and One Dollar and Twenty Cents Taken Sunday.

When Agent W. J. Davies of the Wheeling & Lake Erie station went to the office Monday morning, he discovered that the money drawer had been broken open and $1.20 had been taken.

On investigation it was found that the sliding window between the waiting room which is open on Sunday, and the ticket office had been pried open and entrance obtained that way. It was found that the breaking in had probably occurred Sunday afternoon while Operator I. K. Miller was gone to dinner. In all probability the crime was committed by hobos passing along the railway line. The window was afterward carefully closed.

Mr. Davies had been at the station Sunday noon and had taken with him all bills and coins of larger denomination, leaving the pennies, nickels and dimes which amounted to the sum mentioned.

SLOT MACHINES MUST GO.

Superintendent Van Dusen of the Wheeling & Lake Erie Orders Them Out.

C. A. Van Dusen, superintendent of the Cleveland division of the W. & L. E. railroad, has sent out circulars to all of the ticket agents on his division ordering them to notify owners of slot machines to remove their machines from the property of the railroad.

The order embraces all kinds of slot machines and will be strictly enforced. It is as follows:

W. & L. E. Railroad company, Cleveland division.

(Circular No. 11.)

CANTON, O., Feb. 8, 1901.

To all Agents:

Promptly upon receipt of this circular, please notify owners of all nickel or penny-in-the-slot machines or other similar devices in and about your station to remove same within ten days and advise this office of the number of such machines on hand at your station, names and addresses of the owners, and the date upon which notice was sent them ordering the removal of such machines, and accordingly you will refuse to allow any such devices to be placed in or about your station without proper authority having been furnished for same.

C. A. VAN DUSEN,
Superintendent.

NOT THE OLD GRAY GOOSE.

Of Aunt Rhoda Fame But a Fowl that Knocks the Persimmons.

According to a story in the Cleveland Leader, William Brigham, of Claridon, Geauga county is the owner of a gander goose more than a hundred years old, that is as lively today as the large flock of youngsters which he proudly leads about Mr. Brigham's farmyard.

The bird was brought to Geauga county according to the story by Mr. Brigham's father nearly a century ago from the east, and has been in the family's possession ever since. There are many accounts of the old fellow's sagacity in eluding foxes and other enemies, and he was the playfellow of many of the old men of that township when they were boys years ago. The goose was exhibited at the recent Geauga centennial celebration at Burton, it is said, where he attracted a great deal of attention.

If any Coshocton county citizen has a goose story that will beat this, let him trot it out—and the goose too.

SNATCHED A PURSE.

Mrs. Owens Charges George Carpenter with Taking Her Pocketbook Saturday Night.

George Carpenter, a young miner said to be employed in the Morgan Run mines, is in the city prison, having been arrested by request of Mrs. Owens, widow of Zed Owens, who was killed at West Lafayette two years ago. Mrs. Owens is a domestic employed in this city, and alleges that Carpenter grabbed her purse while in conversation on the street with her, Saturday evening, and ran away.

She requested Officer Hains to arrest him and that officer succeeded in finding him. Sunday morning Mrs. Owens told Chief Maple to hold Carpenter and she would file a charge against him Monday morning. Mrs. Owens failed to appear this morning and Carpenter will be held 24 hours and if no charge is preferred by Mrs. Owens he will be released.

STONEPILE LOOMING UP

Before William Zetty, Who is Trying to Sober up at the City Prison.

William Zetty, whose home is in Canal Lewisville, is in the city prison endeavoring to sober up enough to hear what will be his sentence on the charge of intoxication and resisting Officer Hains. Zetty was arrested Sunday evening by the officer who found him in the alley between North Second and North Third streets. He will probably be sentenced to the workhouse.

DRIVEN FROM HOME

Were Half Dozen Hobos Who Had no Money to Pay Fines.

A party of six tramps, three colored and three white, were arrested by Pan Handle Officers Doney and Moore Saturday, near the stock yards above the city and a charge of loitering placed against them. They had no money and were plain hobos. Chief Maple fired them out of the city Sunday morning.

They gave their names as James Price, A. McGowen, James Owens, William Payne, Walter Henderson and John Robinson. The last three named were colored.

W. L. Yancy, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in southern Kentucky treated me without success. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief and three bottles cured me permanently. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." C. E. Anderson.

ANTI-ANNEXATIONISTS

Getting In Work at Roscoe to Prevent It From Sharing Coshocton's Prosperity.

Roscoe people are still discussing annexation and considerable progress has been made in turning sentiment that way. Our correspondent has discovered a scheme to block annexation and writes as follows concerning it:

"The movement to annex Roscoe to Coshocton has developed into a spirited contest with a lively scramble for signatures. The opponents of the movement have a man running from house to house with a written protest begging property owners to sign. This man owns a low ground field which the survey will include between Roscoe and Coshocton, and to prevent an increase of taxation on this field he is willing to hold up the entire town from public improvement and keep it in the back ground. He is an ingenious talker and tells a variety of stories to suit the person whose signature he is soliciting.

He tells the women that as soon as annexation is secured saloons will crowd into Roscoe and thereby induces them to sign. He tells the men annexation means ruin to Roscoe, and that the town will not be worth living in if annexation wins, and that when Roscoe is once in the grasp of the Coshocton council, oppression and injustice will follow. Instead of telling our people what every sensible man and woman knows is truth, that annexation and a moderate increase in the rate of taxation will bring city privileges to Roscoe and greatly beautify our town, he tells a tale of woe and oppression and is thereby deceiving quite a number of persons.

Then, too, a number of men who have accumulated property, have lately moved to Roscoe for a low rate of taxation and on easy time. These, too, are willing to hold up the town and keep it in the back ground so they can have a soft snap.

Notwithstanding these obstacles annexation sentiment is rapidly increasing and its opponents will hardly be able to hold their forces in line, for soon as signers of the protest discover that they have been duped by false arguments they are liable to come over to the side of progress and sign the petition for annexation, which will be ready as soon as the survey is completed."

Incendiarism Suspected.

Boston, Feb. 11.—Three persons dead, four others badly injured and a financial loss of $2,500 is the summary of damage caused by a fire that occurred in a 4-story brick dwelling. The dead are: Nora Hart, 5, killed by jumping from a window; Mrs. Frances Riley, a widow, 50, suffocated by smoke; Mrs. Matilda Barry, 48, a widow, burns. There is a suspicion that the fire is of incendiary origin and two arrests have been made, Harris Levin, 38, and his wife Bertha. Levin had a shoe store on the first floor of the burned building, and the arrests resulted from the suspicion that naptha or something of that kind caused the fire, together with the disappearance of Levin, his wife and four children immediately on discovery of the fire.
